PROVOST-CHIEF FRIEND OF UNFORTUNATE WOMEN

PUTS WOMEN AT CRITTENTON HOME ON HONOR.

Promises to Help, Not Oppress Them—Path Open to Reformation.

Capt. H. S. Cole, chief of the provost guards, demonstrated to the inmates of the Crittenton home late Wednesday afternoon that besides his many other accomplishments he is an orator of no mean ability. The captain visited the home together with Mrs. Joe Brown, who is at the head of it, and in a short but impressive talk he gave the young girls there to understand that he was their friend and did not come there to lecture them, but to have a heart-to-heart talk regarding the treatment he would see they received. The first thing Capt. Cole did was to order the door of the institution left open, putting every girl there on her honor, where she will remain until the confidence the captain has placed in them is violated. Capt. Cole talked sympathetically with the inmates, telling them that merely because they were unfortunate and had wandered from the path of righteousness, it by no means meant they were lost forever. "There is always a chance to get back on the right road and that is what each and every one of you girls can do, and it shall be my endeavor to assist you in every way that I can," said Capt. Cole. "You are not to be treated like wild beasts thrown into a cage and forgotten, for it is the purpose of the government to aid you in every way just as much morally and mentally as physically," continued the provost captain.

Capt. Cole, in speaking of the system which he had adopted with the girls, said that while he would be exacting as far as the law required it, at the same time he would always be merciful to all who fell into his hands, and especially those unfortunate girls. "The trouble with most of these girls, who are standing on the very threshold of young womanhood, is that they have not had a chance and it is my desire while they are in my keeping to see that they are benefited in every way possible," said Capt. Cole. The provost chief stated that there was one thing that he would not stand for one minute and that was the mistreatment of any one under arrest by his guards. He stated that he didn't know this had ever been done, but if it should be, he said, and is reported, he will investigate and punish the guilty parties.

LAST BROTHER OF GEN. JOHN MORGAN DIES

Col. R. C. Morgan, Famous Confederate, Passes Over the River.

Col. Richard C. Morgan, last surviving brother of Gen. John Hunt Morgan, and member of the famous band whose exploits are chronicled in the history and tradition of the nation, died a few days ago at his home in Lexington, Ky. Col. Morgan is survived by his wife, Mrs. Alice B. Morgan, and sister, Mrs. Molly Morgan Forsythe, who lives with her daughter near Richmond, Va. Funeral services will be Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Christ Church cathedral, of which he was a member, Bishop Lewis W. Burton officiating.

Richard C. Morgan was born in Fayette county, Sept. 18, and recently celebrated his eighty-second birthday. His father, Calvin C. Morgan, was a native of Virginia, and his mother, the Honorable Hunt Morgan, a famed belle of her day, was a daughter of John W. Hunt, of Lexington. He had, besides Mrs. Forsythe, another sister, Henriette, who married Gen. Basil Duke, whose illustrious career was second only to that of his brother-in-law, John Hunt Morgan, whom he succeeded in command of "Morgan's Men" when their leader was killed. The six brothers, John, Richard, Charleston, Calvin, Jr., Thomas and Key, with their two brothers-in-law, Gen. Basil Duke and A. T. Hill, all joined the Con-

STOP DANDRUFF! HAIR GETS THICK, WAVY, BEUTIFUL

Girls! Draw a cloth through your hair and double its beauty.

Spend a few cents! Dandruff
vanishes and hair stops coming out.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff, is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed, and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will, you can not find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp, and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this. (Adv.)

WILL FORM NEW JAPANESE CABINET

Marquis Saionji, who has been entrusted with the task of forming a new Japanese cabinet, according to a dispatch from Tokyo, Marquis Saionji will succeed Premier Teruchi. The marquis is considered one of the strongest men in the empire. He is a former president of the Selyukai and retired from politics in 1914.

After Gen. John Hunt Morgan was defeated and captured with many of his gallant band, near Buffington, O., in July, 1861, he was confined in the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus. His restless spirit soon prompted him to make an attempt to escape, and with the aid of some of his followers, a tunnel was dug enough to allow the passage of a man's body was made through the brick and concrete walls of the prison. It was planned that only Gen. Morgan, and six followers should leave the prison, as the entire number confined there could not hope to escape unobserved.

Richard Morgan, who was a colonel on the staff of his elder brother, resembled him enough to deceive the guards, and on the night of the escape managed to be put in the cell of the general, which was guarded more closely than the others. The escaping men put straw dummies on their coats, and Richard Morgan sat with his back to the door while the guard paced to and fro, believing himself to be watching the escape. The escape was not discovered until the next morning, when the fugitives were far on their way south. It was feared that Col. Morgan would be punished severely for the substitution, and he thought he might have to serve a long term in a dungeon, but his punishment was no more severe than that of his comrades, and he was later exchanged.

After the war he returned to Lexington, where he was for many years a hemp broker and owner of a large hemp mill.

COLLAPSE PIECE BY PIECE

Paris Says Battle News Indicates Breakdown.

Paris, Oct. 10.—(Havas).—Paris regards the news from the front as indicating a general giving way of the German line—a collapse piece by piece, the enemy's positions and a crumbling away of his army regiment by regiment and division by division. The formidable war machine is so seriously affected, it is pointed out, that even those who fashioned it and used it against humanity now are themselves doubtful of its soundness—hence their peace propositions—the first they have really formulated. But it is regarded that this hour is not the one in which a respite should be granted the Germans, and the suggestion is heard that no request of the kind will be listened to until the enemy has withdrawn a half dozen miles or more beyond the French and Belgian borders. The attitude of Paris yesterday when the stirring news of the allied successes was coming in was impressive from the calmness of the people. They were eager to read the newspapers carrying the reports and the animation of the conversation in the cafes, on the streets and in public places generally, betrayed the passionate interest that the public attached to the sensational developments. But there was no demonstration anticipative of any speedy peace. The people, as did the leaders, perceived the necessity for prudent caution in considering the possibilities. Nowhere was a cry-raised, notwithstanding the tenseness of the public feeling, nor did any unusual incident occur.

ATTEMPT TO SINK VESSEL

Bernard Weinberg, Alleged German, Held by Authorities.

San Francisco, Oct. 9.—Charged with deliberately attempting to sink a vessel carrying a $5,000,000 cargo by tampering with the steam cock and steering gear, Bernard Weinberg, an alleged German, is held by the authorities here today. The complaint against Weinberg was preferred by Capt. Paul C. Wiegand of the steamer Wasco. He declares that Weinberg, a sailor, deliberately attempted to send the Wasco crashing into a Spanish merchant ship with the idea of sinking both vessels.

An officer of the Wasco rushed below and after a hurried investigation found the trouble. He opened the steam cock in time to give the wheel sufficient power to steer the vessel a hair's breadth out of her course, thereby clearing the motorship by three feet.

READY TO SURRENDER.

Turkey Forced Germany to Send Peace Note Sooner Than She Intended.

London, Oct. 10.—Germany is ready for unconditional surrender, like Bulgaria, according to the general view held by democratic circles in the German empire, says an Amsterdam dispatch to the Chronicle. A Zurich dispatch to the Daily News says the German government would send a peace note sooner than Germany had intended to take such action, by sending an ultimatum to Berlin threatening to follow Bulgaria out of the war unless a peace move was undertaken at once.

DID IT FOR FATHERLAND.

Woerner Horne, Dynamiter, Held for Canadian Authorities.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 9.—Woerner Horne, German dynamiter of the international bridge connecting Maine with Canada, was held for Canadian authorities just as he emerged from the federal prison here today after serving a term for the dynamiting. His term had been shortened for good behavior.

"Yes, I did it," boasted Horne, as he stood in the office of the United States marshal. "I did it for the fatherland."

AMERICAN LOSSES ONE-HALF

London, Oct. 10.—The American losses in the advance yesterday on the Cambrai-St. Quentin front were considerably less than one-half of the German prisoners captured, according to information from the front. On the American sector of the Sulphe river the Germans are again putting up strong resistance.

APPROVAL IN PARIS

Paris, Oct. 10.—President Wilson's reply to the German peace note was published in the noon editions of the newspapers today, and was greeted with general satisfaction and expression of approval throughout Paris.

CAMP MILLS NOW AFFECTED.

Mineola, N. Y., Oct. 9.—Camp Mills, which heretofore has been only slightly affected by the Spanish influenza, was placed under quarantine today. It was learned that 200 new cases had been discovered.

covered yesterday and 120 more reported this morning.

NEW ORLEANS RATES RAISED.
New Orleans, Oct. 9.—The city commission council has passed an ordinance granting permission to the New Orleans Railway and Light company to increase street car fares to 5 cents and electricity and gas rates 10 percent. The new rates will become effective Thursday next.

Organized labor here as a unit has opposed granting the increases and proposes to seek an injunction to prevent their becoming effective.
